The Missionary Church (mcusa.org) is an evangelical denomination committed to the authority of Scripture and the fulfillment of the Great Commission with roots in the Anabaptist and Wesleyan-Arminian Tradition.

LMC is located in the rural Thumb of Michigan eight (8) miles north of the City of Marlette with several other small towns within a 20 mile or less radius. The cities of Port Huron and Saginaw are approximately an hour away. The church sits on the corner of Adams Road and M-53, a busy state highway. The facility includes the sanctuary, a fellowship hall and a basement which houses offices and classrooms, including a youth room.

A nursery and kitchen are also located within the building. A pavilion was built in the summer of 2024 and is used for outdoor ministry.

Beginnings: Lamotte Missionary Church began in 1887 when a group of Christians who migrated from the Ontario Province started meeting weekly, then became affiliated with the Ontario District of the Mennonite Brethren in Christ Church. The congregation met in a school building until they built their first building in 1890. That building was used until the current building was completed in 1970.

Training Leaders: LMC has a strong history of raising up and sending out workers under the Great Commission. Past members have served, and currently serve, as missionaries (both within the U.S. and outside), pastors, Christian educators and administrators within the Missionary Church.

Passion for the Lord: Our Mission Statement guides us as we share our passion for Jesus - Lamotte Missionary Church is a place where we honor the past and look forward to the future with joyful anticipation. We have been equipping people for ministry since 1887 and continue to instill strong family values for this and future generations. Our body of believers are committed to building the Kingdom of God.....one life at a time!
